2019 Annual Training Conference

Tuesday, February 5 to Thursday, February 7 • Flamingo Las Vegas Hotel & Casino

Sponsorship & Exhibitor/Vendor Information

The California Robbery Investigators Association (CRIA) is pleased to announce that the next Annual Training Conference will be held at the Flamingo Las Vegas Hotel & Casino on February 5-7, 2019. Over 400 law enforcement professionals from California and neighboring states, as well as numerous security professionals from the banking, retail, and other industries with an interest in robbery investigations will participate in this outstanding California POST Certified training.

At the conference banquet, CRIA will also present its "Officer of the Year" awards. This award is presented annually to California law enforcement officers working in uniformed, non-investigative capacities who distinguish themselves for outstanding police work related to a robbery investigation. Each year, the North and South Chapter boards each honor an officer(s) selected from candidates nominated by our members.

Benefits of Sponsorship

By sponsoring CRIA or becoming an exhibitor/vendor at a conference, your company will generate leads, build relationships and create future sales through our members and the numerous law enforcement agencies they represent. You will have the opportunity to meet approximately 400 conference attendees face-to-face, as well as receive advertising on our web page. Each level of sponsorship also includes an exhibitor/vendor table at the conference.

There are a number of ways to support CRIA while getting your message out to our members and conference attendees. Please see the sponsorship application that follows for the variety options available – there is bound to be an option that fits your company's budget.

Donations

CRIA is a non-profit, 501C3 organization and would be happy to accept any donation your company may offer. Donations can consist of monetary donations and/or donations of goods and services to be used during the conference or raffled at the conference, during breaks. Every donation will be greatly appreciated and will be given appropriate recognition (Federal Tax ID #94-2948429). CRIA will provide a 'Donation Receipt' for each donation received if requested.
